The Antioch Grade School Band again returned victoriously from the state contest which was held last Saturday at Lewistown, Ill. The judges gave the band a 7-7-8 rating which is one point from being a perfect score.

Solos and ensembles were also judged on Saturday and the results were 20 first and 7 second division ratings. Soloists to receive a Division I rating were: David Cardiff, Jane Edwards, Cheryl Galati, Phyllis Kopriva, Carol Lasco, Cheryl Lemke, Judy Liddle, Myrna Masek, Susan Polley, Judy Turner, Bonnie Van Patten, Carol Weighart, and Harleen Young. Soloists receiving a Division II rating were: Barbara Close, Cheryl Folbrink, Nancy Kufalk, and Judy Stoffel. Ensembles receiving a Division I were: Saxophone duet, cornet trio, oboe duet, second clarinet quartet, first mixed clarinet quartet, Brass Sextet, flute trio. Ensembles receiving a Division II rating were: first clarinet quartet, second mixed clarinet quartet and the brass quartet.

The entire group left Antioch Friday afternoon at 1 p. m. by school bus and automobile and stayed overnight at the Pere Marquette Hotel in Peoria. The following morning the group went on to Lewistown. On the return trip the band was given a supper party in Chenoa, Ill. The supper and hotel expense was donated by the Band Parent Association.

Director George Olisar said the success of the trip was due to a hard working and very cooperative group of more than 25 parents who accompanied the band. The people of the Pere Marquette Hotel commented on the efficient way in which the hotel stay was organized and chaperoned.

On May 3 the Band Parent Association will conduct its annual fund raising project. This year it is called a "Band Rodeo." There will be fun booths, games, a chuck-wagon, and guest bands. The guest bands will be the North Chicago Grade School Band and the Zion Grade School Band. The affair will begin at 12 noon and end at 9 p. m.

There will be an extra meeting of the Band Parent Association Friday, May 2, at 7:30 p. m. in the grade school cafeteria.

The last meeting of the year will be at 8 p. m. Tuesday, May 6. At the meeting new officers will be introduced, state contest comments will be discussed, and a summary of the past year's activities will be given.

Unbeaten Salem Tags Port Washington 6-0

Salem Central handed the Port Washington Pirates a 6-0 shut-out Monday at Port Washington as an opener in the Braveland Conference, in which the Falcons are playing their last year.

Lefty Ronnie Nelson held the Pirates to three singles and struck out 10 batters, walking only two.

Salem put up a strong defense, making not a single bobbie all afternoon.

The Falcons scored in the third inning when Ron Yates smacked a triple to deep center and scored on pitcher Nelson's single. In the same inning Dave Ellis and Ray Lubkeman scored on singles by Westman and Ray Ellis.

Two more runs were added in the fifth when Dick Weber walked, and Dave Erickson was safe on an error. They scored on singles by Dave Ellis and Lubkeman. The last run was scored by Dave Ellis, who reached first base on an error, stole second, and came home on another error.

Salem Central is now unbeaten in four games.

Elsewhere on the Salem athletic front the Falcons lost a golf match 9-6 to Union Grove in a 9-hole match at Brown's Lake Course Friday. Waterford was a guest of Central Monday at Salem Country Club.

1,100 Attended Music Festival Here Monday

Antioch residents had their first opportunity at home to attend the Northwest Conference Music Festival and they took advantage of it in large numbers Monday evening.

An estimated 1,100 persons packed the school gymnasium in listening to the combined bands of the eight high schools of the conference play under the direction of Ralph Houghton, Kenosha, Wis., and the combined choruses sing under the direction of Gerhard Schroth of Luther High North in Chicago and agreed that it was good entertainment, according to the applause.

The mixed chorus greeted Schroth with prolonged applause, indicating his popularity with the students, and the band showed its response to Houghton's direction by turning in a very creditable performance despite tired lips from many hours of practice immediately before the program.

Mrs. Margaret Aschenbrenner, Antioch, was the accompanist.

The students presented 20 numbers, the band appearing in ten, the mixed chorus in six, the boys' and girls' choruses in two each.

Louis Chenette, Antioch, served as general chairman of the festival, Kenneth Smouse, Antioch, vocal chairman; and Lawrence Wathen, Wauconda, instrumental chairman.

Schools participating were Antioch, Warren, Lake Forest, Grant, Grayslake, Round Lake, Wauconda, and Elva-Vernon. This is the first time that the festival has come to Antioch.

Lions Told Service Hadley School Gives To Blind Students

The Hadley School for the Blind gives blind persons a new lease on life, Richard Kinney, instructor, and Donald W. Hathaway, assistant director, assured members of the Antioch Lions Club at their dinner meeting Monday evening.

Kinney, who is both blind and deaf, said that he thought the end of the world had come for him when he became blind at the age of seven years, and later deaf, but through the Braille touch system of reading, he was able to get a good education and in his connection with the correspondence school at Winnetka, can give new hope to those who were unfortunate like himself.

The number of students who now receive training in subjects from grade school, high school to college, now runs into the hundreds.

"We can't bring the students to Hadley, but we can take Hadley to any blind student anywhere in the world, by mail," Kinney said.

The Lions Club contributes to a fund that makes possible tuition at the school for those unable to finance the training. The school teaches the Braille system.

The members of the local club also heard a report from Dr. G. W. Jensen on matters pertaining to the Aqua Center. He issued a call for the members to volunteer their services in cleaning the pool on May 7.

Parents Asked to Keep Pets And Children Off the Village Streets

When Antioch residents hear long blasts on the siren at 1:30 p. m. Sunday, it will be their warning of a civil defense alert and at the same moment "Code Assembly" will be put into effect by Civil Defense Director John L. Horan.

Fire companies from Wilmet, Trevor, Salem and Bristol, Wis., and Lake Villa on the south supported by rescue squads from Lake Villa, Fox Lake and Antioch will assemble at the High School grounds and await their first move into action following the warning that the area is to be bombed.

Seven spots will be hit as major important places in the community, the oil refineries on North avenue, the railway station at Depot street and the Soo Line, the village administration building on Main st., at Ida Avenue and Bishop streets, residential areas at Spafford and Naber streets, at David and Orchard streets, and at Highland and North avenues, followed by a mass attack of bombing on the business section, creating much noise, smoke and fire, and bringing the program to home as close as possible to the real thing.

Streets will be policed and the public is asked for a short period on Sunday afternoon for their cooperation, in not parking their cars on the various streets and not to let children or pets play in the streets.

A crew of civil defense personnel visited Antioch last Sunday from Skokie, Ill., and made a survey of the area, setting up their radio transmitter for radio reception, as Antioch has been removed from the danger zone and is now classified as a reception center for evacuation purposes in cooperation with the Chicago and suburban areas.

Tests at the water tower showed a dead spot as a reception area, and the crew will return this week-end to ascertain whether an antenna at the top of the tower will work.

People Want Natural Gas—But!

People want natural gas. That's a truism—demand for this fuel has grown spectacularly in late years. But, for all its obviousness, it is worth stating—because of a situation which threatens to make it more and more difficult for consumers in the non-producing states to get the gas they want.

A Supreme Court decision, handed down in 1954, says, in effect, that under existing law the producers of natural gas which goes into interstate commerce must be federally regulated on a public-utility basis. Yet natural gas production is, completely without public utility characteristics. It is intensely competitive and financially hazardous. There are no protected markets. The chairman of the Federal Power Commission himself said that the commission can't work out a fair formula for setting field prices of the gas—because there are too many risks involved in production; too many unknowns.

The inevitable result is less gas for non-producing states. Producers are tending to confine their sales to the small number of producing states, where federal regulation does not apply.

This is a serious problem and legislation designed to correct it is now before Congress. That legislation has two main purposes. It would free the producers from needless and destructive bureaucratic controls. Then it would protect consumers by giving the FPC full authority to forbid producers to charge more than a reasonable market price for the gas.

A magazine published by Standard Oil of Indiana puts the case this way: "Unless we get some measure like this, we're going to have less and less gas available in the non-producing states—at higher and higher prices. Then the national defense will suffer for lack of this important fuel. The economy of the non-producing states will suffer. Those who now use gas and those who want it but can't get it will suffer."

Stimulant to Recovery

In the view of former President Herbert Hoover, we can recover from the current business recession—and do so without bringing on more inflation. And here, to quote him, is how we can accomplish that fact:

"We must have no wave of wage and fringe rises."

"There should be no lifting of prices by industry. We should cut Government expenditures, not only to provide additional weapons and balance the budget, but also to the point where we can have a tax reduction. This would be the greatest possible stimulant to recovery."

The great danger now is that panic will result in measures which will make an uncontrollable inflation all but inevitable. Mr. Hoover's formula stems from hard experience, and it is the soundest yet proposed.

Youth in the Welfare State

According to a recent Gallup Poll, 56 per cent of Great Britain's young people—those between 21 and 34 years—"... would like to leave their native isles and settle in another corner of the globe." The first four preferred countries of emigration, in order, are Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the United States.

Other surveys made in late years have produced a comparable result. And some students have conducted exhaustive inquiries as to why England's youth—those on whom her future depends—should wish to forever leave their homeland in overwhelming numbers.

Naturally, the reasons are many and varied. But one of the big ones is found in England's welfare state. Government controls are rigorous, and along with them has come a crushing burden of taxation. Opportunity for most young people is limited to the extreme. The heavy hand of an entrenched, rule-bound bureaucracy is felt everywhere. The principal basic industries are still nationalized, and even the major privately-owned enterprises are dominated by government.

Under such circumstances, it is natural that the young people should be discontented and rebellious. They feel that they are ciphers, with little or no chance to get ahead, to make the most of their energies and abilities, to lead useful, productive and satisfying lives. This is always a fruit of the super-state, no matter what particular philosophy it is grounded in.

Where Progress Begins as a Dream

Writing in Parade magazine, Robert P. Goldman tells what American medicine is doing to prolong our lives. It's a story of tremendous achievement and potential.

This year, for instance, the girls who are born will live an average of 73 years and the boys 67 years—all-time highs in the history of civilization. And that expectancy is due to steadily increase as time wears on.

Mr. Goldman lists a number of areas in which great gains are being chalked up. As he puts it: "Medicine is closing in on our No. 1 killer, diseases of the heart and blood vessels, which cost the U. S. about 1,000,000 lives a year." The menace of blood pressure has been greatly alleviated, through new drugs and regulated diets. We are making headway against the most stubborn of all killers, cancer—present-day therapy saves one in three cancer patients and high hopes are held for a new discovery which may be the key to prevention of some types of the disease. Notable strides are being made in surgery. According to Mr. Goldman: "Today, surgeons operate with confidence on persons at any age, and postoperative death rates are extremely low, even among the old."

As recently as 30 years ago it was generally believed that the major chronic diseases such as heart trouble were hopeless. Now the picture has changed utterly.

Thus does medicine push back the frontiers, and give us longer, healthier, happier lives. Today there are 39,000 Americans aged 95 or older, and 6,000 who have passed the century mark. To quote Mr. Goldman once again: "It may be a dream to think that those numbers will increase significantly in the next generation or two. But experience has shown that medical progress often begins as a mere dream."

Newsboys Can Dream

Columbia, South Carolina, geographically speaking, is quite a stretch from the industrial centers of the Great Lakes, but as opportunity goes, it is not so far. The Columbia State, with pardonable pride, tells of the rise of one of its former paper carriers, a native Columbian and a South Carolinian.

As reported by The State, Mr. John E. Swearingen, a graduate of the University of South Carolina has been named president of Standard Oil Company of Indiana. Mr. Swearingen is 39 years old and "began his career with Standard Oil as a chemical engineer. ... He became a director of Standard Oil in 1951 and was named vice president in charge of production in 1954. In September, 1956, he was promoted to executive vice president and 18 months later made president."

Here is fresh evidence that the United States is still a land where newsboys can make their dreams come true if they are willing to work hard enough. It will remain so as long as we preserve an economic system in which even the largest industries operate in a competitive free market that demands the highest degree of individual ability.

Conditions Affect Driving Ability

CHICAGO—Even though a person has a good safety record and thinks he's in excellent health, there are certain circumstances under which he shouldn't drive.

Some of the things that make a driver dangerous are:

—The driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong. Some are aggressive and intolerant when they get into a car. They need to be mature.

—Sleepiness. A sleepy driver is as much a hazard as a drinking one. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. When making long trips, a person should rest every two hours, drinking coffee or cola to stay alert. He should not take any medicine that makes him drowsy.

—Medicines. Antihistamines, cold (tablets, sedatives, tranquilizers and some other drugs may dull reflexes or impair coordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. The doctor should be consulted about the side effects of any drugs.

—Faulty vision. A driver needs regular eye examinations; if he notices any change in his eyes between examinations, he should see his eye doctor immediately.

Better Foods To Get Better and Better

NEW YORK—According to the experts, virtually every fruit and vegetable on the market today has been improved by modern plant breeding and this work is continuing steadily.

Today we have seedless grapes and seedless grapefruit, tight packed head lettuce, thicker, crispier bunches of celery, smoother, cleaner skinned potatoes, bigger apples and peaches.

Tomorrow looks even better. Scientists have produced blueberries as large as cherries, sweet corn with a yield many times that of present varieties and plant geneticists are working on thornless blackberry bushes and the perfect peach.

Power User

WASHINGTON — More electric power is used by the Oak Ridge installation of the Atomic Energy Commission than by the highly industrialized city of Detroit, Mich. Power for Oak Ridge comes from the Kingston, Tenn., steam plant of TVA, which uses 4,300,000 tons of coal a year.

This week we are expanding our column to include the Grass Lake area, since we receive much news of interest from these people. This will include the whole Grass Lake School district, so attention, all you folks in subdivisions at Grass Lake, Bluff Lake and Indian Point. Please call in news items of interest.

The Carl Cogdills of Fairview St., Bluff Lake, are the proud parents of a fifth child. She is Susan Lynn, born April 22 at 2:45 p. m. at the Swedish Covenant hospital in Chicago. She weighed 7 lbs. and 11 ounces. The Cogdills' other children are: David, age 12, Jimmy 11, Billy 8, and Patricia, 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Bergren of Resthaven subdivision, Petite Lake, have just returned home after two months spent in Florida. Both on their way down and back they stopped to visit their son, Reynold and his family, in Knoxville, Tenn. Reynold is a chemical engineer at the Oakridge Atom bomb plant, Oakridge, Tenn. While in Florida the Bergrens traveled all over the state from east to west coast and were most impressed by the overall effects of the freeze, on palm trees and fruit trees which were barren of leaves and fruit. They are happy to be home once more.

This is a piece of bad news. The home of William Rowe, Indian Point, was burglarized last week. Both his TV and Hi-Fi sets were taken, and these days those are indispensable household items. Let's hope they are recovered.

It was also in the nature of a victory celebration for her recent re-election as committeeman for this precinct as well as representative committeeman for Lake County.

There were twenty-two women present, and each one brought food of some kind. The menu consisted of fried chicken, potato salads, jello molds, hot biscuits, desserts and other goodies. A special cake was baked by Mrs. Robert Hart and beautifully decorated with roses and Helen's name.

Mrs. Burke was presented with two gifts, one a life membership pin for PTA, by Mrs. Charlotte Queen, to wear in honor of having received this reward for service from the whole group present at the luncheon, and the card was signed by the following: Mrs. Kay Halverson, Mrs. Melby Apperley, Mrs. Evelyn Burke, Mrs. Elizabeth Anzinger, Mrs. Gladys Kochanski, Mrs. Elizabeth Andersen, Mrs. Amy Hart, Mrs. Marie Hoffman, Mrs. Mamie Maleck, Mrs. Ethel Meyer, Mrs. Mabel Byrne, Mrs. Lida Frasier, Mrs. Jane Bloom, Mrs. Betty Geib, Mrs. Irene Kantor, Mrs. Meta Framke, Mrs. Ella Keil, Mrs. Helen Carlson, Mrs. Marie Nemec, Mrs. Doris Maleck, and Mrs. Charlotte Queen.

Bowl 'Em Over

By SYLVIA WENE

Former BPAA Match Game Champion

"Spot" and "Pin" Bowling

"Spot" and "Pin" bowling offer the bowler two distinctly different methods for aiming at the pins. When deciding which method is best for you, choose the system that seems to be the most natural.

In the pin method, the bowler assumes a starting stance in which his right shoulder is in line with the path he figures his ball will follow. Keeping that path in mind, he fastens his gaze on the one-three pocket. There his eyes remain steadily throughout his entire approach and release.

True spot bowlers pick a spot on the lane anywhere from two feet past the foul line to three-quarters of the way down the lane as a target. This spot or target is located somewhere along the imaginary line which will lead the ball to the one-three pocket. The ball, provided it is delivered properly and goes over the designated spot, will fell the pins. The bowler's eyes and attention are focused on the selected spot until the ball has gone over it.

Pin bowling adherents attempt to prove their method best by saying that it is natural to look at the object you are trying to hit where the spot bowler devotees argues that it is easier to hit a target that is, say 20 feet away than one that is 60 feet away. Both are good methods, as proven by the many bowling champions who use one or the other, or a combination of the two.

THE DOCTORS SAY...

Babies Accept Unheated Formulas

An Abilene, Texas, pediatrician reports that a test with 150 infants showed that 89 per cent accepted cool (room temperature) or cold (right from the refrigerator) prepared formula, and with no harmful effects, according to the Schering Science bulletin. Dr. John P. Gibson, reporting in the "Journal of Pediatrics," said that mothers reacted "enthusiastically" to this change and that those babies accepting the unwarmed formula did so within a week on the average. The babies were checked for seven months and not one showed a downward deviation from normal, but seven showed improvement after being taken off warm formula. He says that mothers prepare about 1,400 bottles of formula during the first eight months of a baby's life.

Physical Fitness

According to an article in "Medical Science," children in the U. S., tested for muscular strength and flexibility, ran a poor second to European children. Fifty-eight per cent failed in one or more tests; only nine per cent of the European children failed.

Treatment for Skin Allergies

Dr. William Grater of Dallas reported at the Texas State Medical Association meeting that he obtained excellent results in treating patients suffering from allergic skin disorders with the "Meti" drugs. Of 166 patients treated, 138 showed dramatic response to these drugs. Many of these cases were chronic and resistant to previous forms of treatment, he said.

Hair-Growth Fallacy

Frequent shaving will not stimulate the growth of hair, it is stated in the "Journal of American Medical Association," in the questions and answers column. "If this were true, the average young man would have been shaving his head for years in an attempt to retain his falling locks." Experimental studies in men and women show no differences "whatsoever" in the amount, length, diameter or pigmentation of the shaved and unshaved areas.

Virus Resistance

Keeping calm and avoiding stress may help protect against virus infections. A study in "Today's Health" said that when mice were subjected to mild electric shock and then injected with virus of cold sores, they developed the infection more often than those not subjected to stress (the electric shock).

Miss Valerie June Gresens, of 1050 Bishop Drive, became the bride of James Michael Corbel, of RFD 3, at a mid-afternoon ceremony Saturday, April 12, at St. Peter's Catholic Church, Antioch.

The Rev. Francis Johnson performed the ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gresens of Bishop Drive and Mrs. Esther Corbel of Route 3, Antioch.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white peacock crystal, fashioned with a collar of lace with seed pearls and sequins, long tapered sleeves, full back with a large bow and chapel length train. Her French illusion veil was caught to a crown of lace, seed pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Jean Gresens attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor in a pink taffeta ballerina length gown fashioned with a chiffon cowl neck, draped into a V-back with flying panels. She wore a matching hat with veil and carried white carnations with pink roses.

Charlotte Hossack, cousin of the bride, and Mary Lou Parker, bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to the matron of honor and carried white and pink carnations.

The bridegroom's brother, George Corbel, served as best man and Ralph Gresens, brother of the bride, and Sid Parker were ushers.

Mrs. Thomas McGreal sang and played the "Ave Maria."

A smorgasbord reception was held at the Swedish Glee Club, Waukegan, with Geraldyn Sage, sister of the bride, serving as hostess.

Offerings at Special Meetings Go To Fund For Baptist Building

ROUND LAKE—Eight days of special meetings at the Baptist Bible Church produced among others one unusual result: No special expenses were contracted for the meetings, so that all offerings went to start a fund to complete the upstairs of the church building. Exactly $118 came in the offerings during the week, plus two special checks, one for $35 and one for $1000.

It is hoped with this unusual and unexpected beginning, augmented by a planned building fund drive, that soon the upstairs for the church may be completed. Then the Baptist Bible church may more adequately than ever serve the needs of the Greater Round Lake Community.

Builds Own Roadway

A roadway approximately a half mile long has been constructed by Vincent Dupre at the Rte. 21 entrance of his subdivision a mile south of Antioch. The road, soon to be blacktopped, extends south from the Chain of Lakes Cleaners. After the land fronting the highway was rezoned for business to permit Robert Willrett to establish his greenhouse, Dupre was advised by the state that only one entrance to the highway would be permitted for the entire business frontage. He was told that eventually the state plans a four-lane highway.

More people might live to a ripe old age if they weren't too busy providing for it.

June 30 Deadline To File For Soc. Security Disability Provisions

June 30 is a very important date for many disabled people, Bernard Barnett, district manager of the Waukegan social security office said today.

Many people who are disabled have neglected to apply under the social security disability provisions, Mr. Barnett said. Workers, both men and women, who have been disabled for over a year have until June 30, 1958 to file application for the disability freeze or for disability benefits if they are 50 or older. Those who have been disabled for a prolonged period and wait until after June 30th may forfeit their rights to disability benefits at age 50, to maximum old-age benefits, and to benefits for their survivors.

Mr. Barnett pointed out that there is no deadline for those who file within a year from the time they become disabled. The June 30, 1958 deadline applies only to those who have been disabled for a prolonged period.

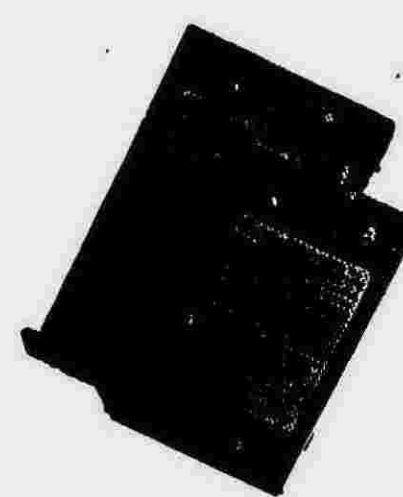

For more information, pamphlets on the disabled benefits available under Social Security, contact your social security office today. The Waukegan Social Security Office is located at 1515 Washington Street.

"Hold It Pardon"—That safety line is placed there for your protection. One of the leading causes of accidental death in drowning or injury is non-conformance to the rules and regulations that have been established by well regulated bathing places. Such things as safe limits for bathers, the requirement of soap and water shower before entering a pool, the restriction of ball playing among sun bathers, or prohibiting running or tag games on wet decks surrounding a pool are rules devised for the safety of the group. Bathers must conform to such regulations even though they may seem irksome and unnecessarily restrictive at times. Paddle by the sandbar if you're young.

Lake County Assessors' Assoc. Reports Progress To Unify Assessments

Substantial progress in the program to unify assessment procedures in Lake County in the interest of taxpayers, was reported at a meeting of the recently formed Assessors' Association held April 15 at Friendship House on Route 83.

Chairman William Pittenger, West Deerfield Township Assessor, acted as moderator. He expressed satisfaction over the enthusiastic cooperation of all Lake County Assessors in the program recommended by the State Department of Revenue to bring about more efficient assessment procedures. These, Mr. Pittenger pointed out, will benefit all real estate taxpayers.

Guest of the meeting was the newly appointed County Supervisor of Assessments Robt. G. Jasper, Jr., who answered a number of questions in his capacity as representative of the Board of Review.

Otto Mara, Newport Township assessor, Warren C. Boyes, Libertyville Township assessor, Chairman William Pittenger and Vice-chairman R. E. Nagler, were named as delegates to a meeting of township officials of Illinois at Rockford, April 29 when a study of township government will be initiated, designed to strengthen this basic unit of American democracy.

Mental Health Week To Start on Sunday

Sunday will mark the start of National Mental Health Week in Lake County.

Nationally, the observance is directed by the National Association for Mental Health in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. Locally, it will be conducted by the North Lake County Mental Health Society.

Waukegan executive Boyd Mulder is chairman.

According to Mulder, since last year's observance, the Lake County Mental Health Clinic, 318 Glen Flora Ave., has been started, and is one of the major mental health resources in the community. The clinic is sponsored by the society, the Lake County Welfare Council, and the Lake County Medical Society.

The major portion of clinic support comes from a temporary grant which the society has obtained from the Illinois State Department of Public Welfare, with local department and some clinic fees making up the difference.

The local effort will be coordinated with the national program which features the slogan, "The Ill Can Come Back."

But let all those that put their trust in Thee rejoice: let them ever shout for joy, because Thou defendest them. —(Psalm 5, 11.)

The most wonderful feeling of strength and joy will come to us and fill us when, instead of giving in to worry and despair, we truly put our trust in God, Our Heavenly Father—when we trust in His mercy and love, His goodness and wisdom. Why should we try to bear our burdens alone?

Antioch High Track Team Beats Round Lake; Places Second In 3-Way Meet With Warren-Ela

Antioch High's track and field teams won from Round Lake High in dual meets last Thursday.

The varsity won 71 to 42, and the frosh-soph team 85½ to 18½.

Antioch turned the tables on Round Lake after having lost to the visitors in a triangular meet by 12 points.

In the varsity meet Antioch won nine firsts and seven second places, and Round Lake won three firsts and five seconds.

In the frosh meet, Antioch won 11 firsts and 8 seconds, and allowed Round Lake but one first and four seconds.

Bill Dressel and Marty Quilty continue next to the top in the Lake County track honor roll. Dressel's 4:52 for the mile is second only to Waukegan's John Kauffman, who improved his record during the past week to make it 4:50.

Quilty is third with 4:55.

Jim Denton of the Sequoit squad entered the list of the elite when his 10.5 seconds gave him a three-way tie for fourth place in the 100-yard dash. Chris Davis also crashed the list with his heave of 135 feet 11½ inches in the discus throw, which gave him a third place in that event.

Frosh-Soph Win Triangular

The underclassmen took first, but the varsity again had to be satisfied with a second in the three-way meet with Warren and Ela-Vernon Monday. Warren won the meet 78 to Antioch's 64, and Ela's 3 points. Warren took eight first places, Antioch 4, and Ela 0; Antioch and Warren tied 6-all for second place.

Warren won both the mile and half mile relays.

For Antioch Martin Quilty won the mile, Dick Frange, the pole vault; Chris Davis, the discus; and Paul Magiera, the high hurdles.

The Antioch Frosh-Soph scored 68½ points, to Warren's 46½ and Ela-Vernon's 13.

Warren won the 440 relay with the time 53.3 seconds.

Antioch won 7 firsts, 7 seconds and four thirds places; Warren, 3 firsts, 3 seconds, and 6 thirds; and Ela 1 first, 1 second, and 1 third.

Antioch first place winners were Ken Truelson in the 100-yd. dash; George Green in the 220 and 440-yard dashes; George Serhson in the 880-yard run; Ken Alshouse in the pole vault; Wes. Merryman in the shot; and Steve Latta in the high hurdles.

ABBOTT LABORATORIES SALES INCREASE

Sales of Abbott Laboratories during the first quarter of 1958 increased 12.7 per cent and earnings rose 14.5 per cent over the comparable period of 1957.

A reason why President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles are reluctant to hold a "summit conference" with Russia at this time is found in some information gathered by U. S. News & World Report. Since 1943 there have been 19 top-level conferences, in which the chiefs of state or foreign ministers participated. Forty agreements were made—and the Soviet government has kept exactly three of them.

Two-way Radio Used In Gas Co. Service

Autos in This Area

Two-way radio is now being used by Northern Illinois Gas Company in this area to help expedite service calls, according to Clem Jones, local district manager for the utility.

The new communication system, which went into operation recently, permits immediate transmission and reception of messages dealing with all types of gas company operations and services. This includes the restoration of service to customers and appliance care as well as the control of gas supply in the area. It also will permit employees or crews in the field to obtain additional material or information necessary to complete work in progress or receive a new assignment from the work dispatcher.

About 125 company vehicles initially are to be linked with one of ten control points located in the 10,000 square mile area served by the gas company, Jones reported. He said it was a part of the gas company's continuing program to provide modern, efficient service to the utility's more than 600,000 customers in northern Illinois.

Used Two-Way Telephone From Truck

Mel Nelson operating a Northern Illinois Gas Co. truck, calls in to receive another assignment after completing a check on a customer's gas appliance.

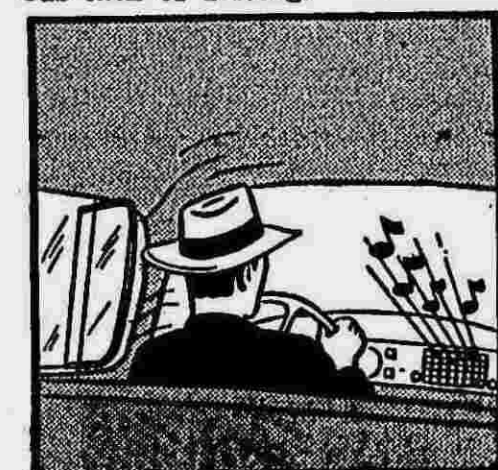

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

A recent annual report from a neighboring state revealed that its expressway system turned in a remarkable safety record. But the report also disclosed that officials were concerned with the main highway enemy, highway hypnosis.

Highway hypnosis was charged with being the big factor in many of the single-fatality accidents on the expressway. The drivers were driving along in apparent full control of their vehicles, and were obviously awake. Yet, some of them were known to have smashed into trucks when the trucks were plainly visible.

One need not be a victim of highway hypnosis, a condition which is attributable to continuous "free sailing" on expressways which results in drivers taking their minds off of the serious task of driving.

To avoid highway hypnosis, do not overeat before getting behind the steering wheel, do not smoke too much, keep a window or window vent open slightly, listen to the car radio.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

On Feb. 23, 1945, the American Flag was raised for the first time over the Japanese fortified island of Iwo Jima when members of the 28th Marines planted the Stars and Stripes on the highest point, Mt. Suribachi.

Writing in National Review, Russell Kirk, the distinguished teacher and writer, finds this central fallacy in the federal-aid-to-education plan. "It isn't money that we need for the improvement of instruction in science, or in anything else. For already we spend far more on schools than any nation ever has before in all history—far more, per capita, than the Russians do. Our trouble is that we are not obtaining value for our expenditures." As Dr. Kirk sees it, too much money goes for non-essential frills, and not enough for real education.

President George Washington declared an embargo against England and France on March 26, 1794, as economic reprisal against those countries for aggressive actions against U. S. Shipping.

He used to always be getting mixed up on the grocery list till his wife bought a two way portable radio set through the Antioch News Classified ads.

Health Insurance Payments Marked New High in '57

NEW YORK—Benefit payments by insurance companies to Americans protected by health insurance policies amounted to a record $2.5 billion in 1957, the Health Insurance Institute reported. This figure represents a 16.1% increase in benefit payments over the $2.1 billion paid in 1956.

According to the Consumer Price Index of the U.S. Dept. of Labor, the cost of medical care in the country last year rose by 4%.

The Institute report is based upon a survey of the nation's insurance companies writing policies which help pay for doctor and hospital bills and for loss of income incurred as a result of accident or sickness.

Persons covered under group health insurance policies, available usually through the place of employment, received a total of $1.8 billion in benefits, a gain of 21.3%, while those protected under individual and family type policies were paid $619 million, or 3% more than in 1956. Both systems of coverage, explained the Institute, are designed by insurance companies to help the insured pay the bills for medical and hospital care and treatment, or to help replace income lost through sickness or disability.

Payments by insurance companies to defray hospital care expenses, the Institute further reported, in listing the benefit totals for the year by type of service, amounted to over $1 billion, with $778 million received under group policies, and $224 million through individual policies.

Phytosaurs Once Roamed America

WASHINGTON—Scourge of inland waters through most of the Northern Hemisphere 170 million years ago were 4-footed crocodile-like creatures with noses almost on the top of their heads. These were the phytosaurs, ancient reptiles 6 to 20 feet long, believed to belong to a group ancestral to the giant dinosaurs that evolved somewhat later. Fossil remains of a 12-foot-long specimen, obtained in exchange from the University of Texas, now are being prepared for exhibition by the Smithsonian Institution.

These monstrous reptiles in life probably would hardly have been distinguishable from the crocodiles of the present, say the paleontologists, but this does not necessarily indicate any close ancestral relationship. Both now and then there was a niche open in nature for that kind of an animal. Both phytosaur and crocodile evolved to fill this niche.

The creatures presumably were fairly common in North America, but some of the more primitive types were found in Europe. All were water dwellers and extremely predaceous.

Rain Drop Study Will Help Weather Control

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—One of the first steps toward possible weather control now is being taken at the University of Michigan in a study of raindrop size made possible by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

A. Nelson Dingle, director of the two-year investigation, says that there is little scientific knowledge of raindrop sizes and that the results of his work will be useful for a variety of things, such as helping to reduce erosion of newly planted land and improving radar detection of storms so as to determine the amount and type of rain in them.

Findings may help to evaluate artificial rainmaking by distinguishing artificially generated rain from natural rain on the basis of drop size differences, he added.

Chief tool of the investigation is the raindrop size spectrometer, a device which measures and counts raindrops without disturbing them, completed last year under Dingle's direction.

U.S. Supermarket Is Transplanted To Yugoslavia

NEW YORK—This spring a piece of unmistakable Americana will be planted in communist Belgrade, Yugoslavia. Not subversion, it's being put there by the Yugoslav government.

The Americana is that not-so-venerable institution of ours, the supermarket. Thanks to American industry—working through the National Association of Food Chains—and to the U.S. government—working through the Department of Commerce—this self-service food store will be earning friends for the United States 365 days a year.

The Belgrade supermarket sprang into being because of an exhibit at the Zagreb Grand Fair last fall. The main part of the U.S. exhibit at the fair was a model supermarket. The equipment and merchandise was assembled for this market by the food chain association at the request of the Office of International Trade Fairs, of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

"Supermarket U.S.A." was an instant hit to almost every one of the more than one million Yugoslavs who toured it—from Marshal Tito and his wife on down.

The Yugoslav government was so impressed by the effectiveness of this unique outgrowth of free enterprise that they bought the equipment. They plan to open the first of what will probably be a chain of supermarkets in April.

In order to get their first supermarket operating just like its American counterparts, the Yugoslavs have borrowed an American chain supermarket executive as an active advisor, J. Rollin Moon, Colonial Stores executive.

Make Your Home A Safer Place

NEW YORK—Housecleaning? From the fire-safety angle, the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests starting in the basement, where many hazards exist. Rubbish—old magazines, newspapers, furniture, old rags and other things are combustibles. Get rid of them.

Furnace—it's dangerous when dirty. Have it cleaned regularly. Don't put off necessary repairs.

Living-Room—your television set, if placed too close to wall, may become a fire hazard. (Never tinker with it and be careful not to cover up the ventilating holes that dispose of accumulated heat.)

Misuse of electricity—accounts for 15 per cent of all fires in the home. Best check all your electrical appliances, including irons, waffle irons, mixers, heaters, lamps, fans, radio and other devices. Make sure that the cords are in good condition, that they bear the little UL tag that denotes listing by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

Multiple attachment plugs—a serious danger in overloading circuits. All rooms should have an adequate number of outlets to take care of all electrical appliances.

Mammoth Machine

NEW YORK—A modern paper-making machine can produce newsprint 310 inches wide at 2,000 feet per minute or 350 tons a day. The paper machines of today are as long as a city block, three stories high and can cost as much as $12 million. Some 18,000 gallons a minute of liquid pulp passes through this mammoth to produce a 13-ton roll of paper in less than an hour.

and fifth innings and gave the Blue Devils seven runs. The Sequoia pitcher tightened thereafter, and despite one or two threats held Warren scoreless the rest of the game.

Only one hit—that by center fielder White of Warren—went for an extra base despite the fact that both pitchers were nicked for a total of 19 hits.

Knuckle Down in Local Marble Contest

Norman Small, standing, of Allendale School, will represent the Lake Villa area in the district marbles tournament at Wilmington, Ill., Saturday. His close competitors were, left to right, Joe Gates, Allendale; last year's district champion who placed sixth in the state but was only second in this contest; Steve Probst, Allendale; third; Sonny Anderson, first at Lake Villa grade school; Terry Young, third at Lake Villa; not identified; and Rick Baiser, third at Prince of Peace parish. Not present for the picture were Robert Schick, second at Lake Villa; William Brendel and Thomas Ivan, first and second at Prince of Peace. ville was rained out and has been rescheduled for next Thursday. A game with Palatine there was hurriedly scheduled Friday and the Sequoia were defeated 6 to 3 by their former conference opponents.

Antioch will start the second round of play tomorrow against Elmhurst and Round Lake will play here Tuesday.

Contact Lenses Enjoy Increased Popularity

CHICAGO—Contact lenses, have had a wide surge of popularity in recent years. These little lenses which are worn against the eyeballs now serve nearly three million Americans, and the number is constantly rising.

It was Leonardo da Vinci who thought up the idea of contact lenses, in 1590. But the first ones were not produced and worn until 1887.

As recently as 1950 there were only 200,000 Americans wearing contact lenses. Of the tremendous increase which has occurred since then, 25 per cent came in 1956 alone. Women wear 67 per cent of the contacts now in use, and 60 per cent of the feminine wearers are between the ages of 15 and 25, while 35 per cent are between 25 and 40.

Cry for Overhaul Of Educational System Not New

SANTA BARBARA, Calif.—Proposals for strengthening the American educational system have not been limited to the post-Sputnik era, nor even to this century, history reveals.

The man often regarded as our greatest historian—Francis Parkman—called for a complete overhaul of the popular educational system as early as the 1870's.

This is brought out in an article in the "American Quarterly" by Dr. Wilbur R. Jacobs, associate professor of history at Santa Barbara College, an authority on the famous American historian.

The public schools did not encourage the reading of good literature, Parkman told his contemporaries, but instead gave the average citizen a crude, imperfect body of knowledge. This practice put money in the hands of those who sold sickly pulp magazines and sensational newspapers designed to satisfy the popular appetite for amusement.

The common man, Parkman said, learned just enough to savor the sweetened oratory of political charlatans and to throw men of ability and integrity out of office. Parkman proposed that we teach the teachers, and also give money to "wisely-established" and "wisely-conducted" universities.

Parkman declared that it is one thing to teach a man to read and write, it was another to stimulate in him a sense of responsibility and the development of powers of reason, analysis and observation.

Hepatitis Rate Still Declining

NEW YORK—Reported cases of infectious hepatitis, an acute virus infection usually accompanied by jaundice, have been decreasing over the last three years, but the disease still remains a serious public health problem.

From the all-time high of over 50,000 reported cases in 1954, the number of cases dropped to 31,001 in 1955, to 19,234 in 1956, and further to an estimated 15,000 in 1957.

Just prior to this decline, however, reported cases rose abruptly from less than 17,500 in 1952 to nearly three times that figure two years later.

There is some evidence that the sharp rise in the incidence of infectious hepatitis was largely spurious, reflecting in large part increasing completeness of reporting. During the four-year period, 1952-55, the number of deaths varied so little that the death rate from the disease remained at 0.5 per 100,000. The 1956 and 1957 mortality figures are expected to show a decrease.

In 1956 the reported cases varied from 5.1 per 100,000 population in the South Atlantic states to 27.0 in the Mountain states.

Life Expectancy Shows Decrease During 1957

NEW YORK—After rising without interruption for 3 successive years, the average length of life of American wage earners and their families decreased slightly in 1957, from the all-time high of 70.2 years established the year before, insurance company statisticians report. The setback is attributed largely to the effect of the Asian influenza outbreak in the last months of 1957.

According to provisional mortality figures for 1957, the average length of life (expectation of life at birth) was 69.9 or 0.3 years below that for 1956.

In spite of the decrease, the figure for 1957 exceeded by 3½ years that of a decade ago and by 23½ years the figure for 1906.

Response To 'Shots' Tells Child's Maturity

CHICAGO—A child's response to having a shot is a good clue to his emotional maturity, a Milwaukee pediatrician says.

A study of 133 children, ranging from tiny babies to 12-year-olds, who underwent 238 shots, showed changing responses as they grow older, Dr. Karl E. Kassowitz reported.

He said the many shots and vaccinations that children must routinely undergo offer an excellent means of studying their psychology and measuring their maturity.

All children must learn self-control and develop pride in their "toughness" he said. Their reactions to shots show how well they have developed these traits.

Big Business

NEW YORK—More than three million vending machines selling everything from chewing gum to hot meals do an annual business of $2 billion in the U. S. today, compared with some 50,000 machines selling $30 million in goods in 1925.

RASPING NOISES

Some of the older TV sets have a rasping noise which is caused by an intercarrier buzz. A lot of folks think that this nuisance cannot be fixed because their set might be six or seven years old, and keep on putting-up with it.

This is not true. At ECONOMY TV on rte. 173 1½ miles west of Antioch we have been able to correct this trouble every time. Phone Antioch 1454 about this problem, or any problem in connection with electronics.

Why Take the Family Camping?

By Howard E. Weaver
Professor of Recreation, University of Illinois

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Countless diversions, however worthwhile, constantly separate families today. Labor-saving devices and mass production have greatly eliminated the chores that formerly required every able adult and child to work long hours daily to meet basic needs of the family for food, clothing, shelter, light, and fuel.

Today Mom and Dad, Junior and Sis are constantly being separated by activities of club, church, school, and numerous worthy civic causes. Too frequent separations weaken the family ties. How many organizations or civic causes are structured to bring the family together as a unit?

It has been said that the family that "prays together stays together." It is likewise true that the family that "plays together stays together." The church and the family vacation or week-end trip are growing in their importance of strengthening family ties.

Family camping offers an ideal way to seek new adventure, share common experiences, and work as a team. Everyone helps establish camp. Dad and Junior erect the tent and arrange bedding while Mom and Sis prepare the evening meal. Later there is fun in singing, roasting marshmallows and planning tomorrow's activities.

Appetites are whetted by physical activity and the open air and there is no need for tranquilizers and sleeping pills. Nervous tensions give way to peace and contentment and sleep comes easily after a day of family play. Families are also going camping because:

1. Camping is fun.
 2. Camping is inexpensive. Campsites are free or a small fee is charged for use of more elaborate facilities.
 3. Camping is comfortable when proper equipment is used.
 4. Camping equipment quickly pays for itself in savings for overnight lodging and may be reused for week-end trips, hunting and fishing, or Scout work.
 5. Equipment, especially that designed and constructed by the family, becomes a source of family pride and satisfaction. Campers enjoy inspecting and comparing gear.
 6. Camping offers an excellent way to make new friends. You rarely meet another family you do not like when camping.
 7. You are close to nature and free to choose countless activities that bring pleasure to every member of the family.
 8. You are closer to the sky, the trees, the lake and breeze—you gain roots in the land and a greater appreciation of God and his works.
- Modern camping equipment makes it unnecessary to be uncomfortable when camping. Spacious and cheerful tents with sewed-in floors and zippers put an end to unwelcome insects. Comfortable bedding, bright and clean lanterns, and efficient stoves that make cooking clean and easy also are available.

KEEP THE GRASS CUT HIGH Your Lawn Is NOT A Putting Green

A closely shaved lawn may look well temporarily, but for most grasses and types of lawn, keep the cut high—never less than 1 inch—unless there are some good reasons for requiring a shorter grass. An amazing number of homeowners make this mistake and ruin their pretty lawns, according to the makers of Pennsylvania lawn mowers. This is confirmed by leading horticultural experts.

As an aid in obtaining uniform greenness, fewer weeds and taller growth of your lawn (both above ground and below) the following cutting guide, used by many professional gardeners, is recommended.

Leave grass clippings on lawn except during wet weather or whenever they are heavy enough to mat. Small clippings do form a protective mulch and work into the ground. It has been estimated that the combined length of clippings removed from a single blade of grass during the lengthy mowing season is close to 36 inches.

N.A.M. Blames Unions for "Business-busting" Tactics

CHICAGO—A lot of union members who are out of work today, can lay the blame for their plight in the laps of some of the leaders of large labor organizations and the "business-busting" tactics they employ, an officer of the National Association of Manufacturers charged today.

E. P. Hamilton, NAM Regional Vice President and President of the Hamilton Manufacturing Co., Two Rivers, Wis., listed among these tactics such union programs and demands as:

- ... pressure for increased wages which greatly exceed increased productivity on the part of the workers involved;
- ... the shorter work week, which seeks to derive the same or more pay for less work;
- ... other fringe benefit demands which add another "staggering" burden on the ability of management to pay;
- ... unrealistic moves toward profit-sharing which seek to "reduce the effective ability of management to manage"; and
- ... a political action program "dedicated to the election of a 'Reutheristic Congress' ready, willing and able to do the special bidding of labor."

Demands such as these, Hamilton declared, can come only from men who have been invested with monopoly power—"a power which was wisely taken away from management more than 40 years ago, but is still allowed in this vital segment of our economy."

The NAM officer said that each of these efforts on the part of organized labor has "pushed labor further into the corner, with the result that today it simply can't back up any more. A decline in business activity and unemployment are the inevitable results," he asserted.

Hamilton pointed out that the "monopoly power these leaders wield with such abandon, rests upon three props which must be removed if our economy is ever again to rest on a stable base."

These pillars of power are, according to Hamilton, the force of compulsory unionism, the secondary boycott and the use of union dues for political purposes.

"If compulsory unionism were eliminated as a prop to support union monopolies," he said, "unions would be forced to pay more attention to the wishes of their members and the over-all welfare of the nation. By means of the secondary boycott, large numbers of people who do not wish to join, are herded into union ranks and union monopoly power can make itself felt in every business establishment in America. While it is the right of union leaders to assert their own personal views on candidates for public office, it is wrong for them to use union funds on behalf of partisan political programs, many of which their members will not support," Hamilton declared.

He called on the country at large—and businessmen in particular—to send up a "barrage of protests to Congress" so that these problems may be solved. Hamilton said the temper of the country today is right for health remedial legislation, "largely because of the revelations of the McClellan Committee." However, he warned that "apathy may soon replace anger and the good works of this Committee will be wasted unless prompt Congressional action is forthcoming."

The steady rise in the average of farm prices in recent months to the highest level in almost five years is giving Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson a defense that neither he nor his attackers had counted on.

The price increase of 7% since December and 11% over a year ago won't, however, halt the debate over whether the present farm program should or should not be continued. Only a few think it should be.

President Eisenhower says he hasn't changed his opinion that new farm legislation is needed. Most congressmen disagree with him only as to what changes should be made. The odds are that no changes will be made this year.

The farm battle throughout the remainder of this year, including the election campaigning, will be a war of words more than action. A continued rise in farm prices could, however, take the edge off of farm programs as a political issue.

The chances of adopting sound farm legislation have been lessened by the propaganda war that would do the Russians credit for half-truths and outright misrepresentation of the facts. The result has been to whip up anti-farmer resentments among consumers.

More than just farmers are involved. Along with the 21 million people on farms there are 42 million others who make their living processing, transporting and retailing foods and fibers, or in manufacturing supplies for farmers. Three out of every eight Americans are engaged in feeding and clothing the nation.

It is interesting to follow a dollar spent by a city housewife for food or clothing. Sixty cents are taken out for "services" before the remaining 40c reaches the producer. Out of that 40c the producer must pay 31c for hired labor, machinery, gasoline, fertilizer, interest on debt, taxes and other operating costs. He has only 9c left for his labor, out of which he must pay family living costs. His average wage is less than 50c per hour.

Consumers are told they pay for their food twice—once in higher prices and again when they pay their taxes. Any housewife will tell you that food costs a lot of money and that prices have been going up and up.

The other fact is that the average wage earner in 1957 could buy more and better food with a smaller percentage of his income than at any time in more than 40 years. From 1947 to 1957 factory wages increased 67%, but food costs are up only 31%.

Priest farmers for raw products have gone down by an average of 20% in the past 10 years. All, and more, of the increased food costs are the result of higher processing and distribution costs.

In 1948 the farm price of wheat was $2.81 a bushel and the average price of a one pound loaf of bread was 13.8 cents. Last year the average price of wheat was $2.05 a bushel and the average price of a loaf of bread was 19c. Wheat went down by 27% and the price of bread went up 29%.

In 1952 the government supported milk at 90% of parity and the average price of milk was 22.8 cents a quart. In 1947 the government supported milk at 83% of parity and the retail price of milk averaged 24.3 cents a quart.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Occasionally we are confronted with the task of driving in fog. Such driving at best can be described as trying.

The first thing a motorist should do while driving when such a situation prevails is to make sure he has his headlights adjusted properly. Make sure you do not use the bright lights. Scientists have described fog as being composed of tiny drops of water so small and light that they hang in the air. They are so close together that light can hardly get through them. Instead, these drops scatter the light. If bright lights are used, a great deal of the beam will be thrown back at the motorist. Thus, the regular lights should be used so that the beam of the headlights is downward.

Also, it is a good idea for a motorist driving in fog to guide by the edge of the road at his right. A constant lookout must be maintained for roadside warnings of curves, hills and intersections. Remember, too, that the green and red signal rays of traffic lights have the same difficulty penetrating the fog as your headlights.

Make sure that your tail-lights are working and are clean. It is important not only that you see, but also that you are seen.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

TAX FACTS

This year America celebrates the 75th anniversary of the first Civil Service law. Originally, this enabled 14,000 Federal employees to hold their jobs on merit rather than by bribery or political favoritism. Today there are more than 7 million people who work under Civil Service regulations: 2.4 million in the national government, 2 million in states, and the rest in local communities.

These facts were noted in a release by the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, an organization whose main concern is to see that taxpayers receive full value for each tax dollar spent.

A majority of the men and women who work for government, the Federation said, is selected by examination and advanced on the basis of merit. The work of these career people touches each one of us every day. Civil Service workers collect taxes, deliver mail, guard health, and administer laws. They help to conserve and revitalize land and develop new seeds and fertilizers. They control airways, supervise highway building, test new drugs, and handle foreign relations. Civil Service people also conduct research, operate the atomic energy program, administer social security, forecast the weather, safeguard bank deposits, and perform hundreds of other services.

Because of its recognition of the importance of public employees who spend the vast amounts of tax money collected from all of us, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois has taken the lead in modernizing and revitalizing personnel administration in Illinois state government. It was one of the key groups behind the establishment of the Personnel Code in 1955, the year the state of Illinois celebrated the 50th anniversary of its civil service system.

It is an established fact that we do not get something for nothing, in government or anything else. But in a republic governed by the governed, success will be largely measured, as President Eisenhower recently stated, "by the caliber of the men and women we can recruit and retain in government."

The Long Engagement

As she opened the last of the day's mail, Molly exclaimed with delight.

"Oh, George! Nephew Joe and Edna announce their engagement! Isn't that wonderful?"

"Sure is. She's an awfully nice girl. When will they get married?"

"Not until after Joe finishes college—two years from now."

"That's good. They're both sensible kids to wait like that, until he gets his diploma. Then they can really start life together."

Molly smiled. "As you know, I believe in long engagements. Remember? We were engaged for almost three years."

"A long engagement does have its good points—if it's not too long," George chuckled. "And, you know what? I'll bet that Joe makes the best grades ever. He'll really buckle down to serious study."

"I don't follow you, George."

"Well, a lot of an undergraduate's time and attention is devoted to dating, isn't it? Nephew Joe won't have to go through that anymore. He's got his girl—and it works out fine all around!"

The monthly pack meeting was held last Wednesday. The Cubs displayed their projects for the month. Each den had planted a flat of various vegetables which were given to the den mothers.

The Den Honor Flag was presented to Den No. 1 for the scarecrow they made. It was so real looking we thought we had a new member.

While the den mothers and committee were planning the program for May, the Cubs watched a sound movie about the history of Naval Aviation, a very interesting story that told about the first airplane the navy had, right up to today's jet planes. A good time was had by all.

experts and butchers and yet will not be delayed since the arrangement of the store is such as to facilitate rapid shopping.

The reopening of this store was stressed by company officials as a gesture for relieving unemployment through the clerks who will be employed and the tradesmen who have been given work in getting this World's Fair store ready for its opening Friday.

Phenomenal growth has marked the career of the Antioch store, which was established five years ago with Mr. Sam Sorenson as manager. For the last three years the Company has felt the need for more display space and added facilities. The new location not only fills the needs in these respects, but enables the Company to justify claim the largest food store in the lake region.

Officers elected to serve with Mrs. Hazen this year are Miss Myrtle Norman, vice-president; Mrs. Anna Winch, secretary; Mrs. Hannah Brett, treasurer; and Mrs. Harriet Runyard, historian.

Installation of officers will take place at a meeting May 9. Outgoing officers will entertain at that meeting.

From down in Topeka, Kansas, came a letter this week addressed to the Chamber of Commerce asking information regarding the resort area surrounding Antioch. A number of such communications have been received already this year according to Fred Swanson, president of the Business Men's organization, who states that many persons in Antioch have no idea of how much the Chamber of Commerce does for Antioch.

War-Baby, Plastic Is Industrial Giant of Times

CHICAGO—Plastic, the war baby of 15 years ago, is an industrial giant today—and it's still growing.

No other field of chemistry can claim more flux, development, or progress, according to Erik Nielsen, scientific advisor at Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology.

But ramifications of the plastics wonderworld go far beyond the field of chemistry—into building, steel, glass, ceramic, rubber, textile, lumber, and many other industries.

With the amazing development that has transpired since World War II, Nielsen added, it is likely that the future will bring wonders in plastic not even considered today.

Among the wide variety of present and possible uses are:

Plastic sheets under concrete foundations to protect them from moisture penetration.

Plastic piping for water and gas lines.

Plastic tiles for floors and walls.

Plastic paints, plastic insulation, and plastic foams for mattresses and furniture.

Plastic furniture, cabinets, and bathroom fixtures.

Plastic reinforced glass for natural and artificial lighting.

Plastic prefabricated houses.

Up until World War II, Nielsen pointed out, plastics were known only by such names as celluloid, bakelite, nylon, and neoprene. Many people considered the field has realized complete development.

Much credit for expanded work in the field goes to the Germans, he said, who were looking for substitutes for materials whose supply lines had been cut off.

Russia Has More Women Engineers

CHICAGO—What does Russia have that we don't have? Women engineers, for one thing.

"Over a quarter of Russia's technological personnel are women," said Dr. Frank D. Carvin, director of the mechanical engineering department at Illinois Institute of Technology. "Our percentage of women engineers is infinitesimal in comparison."

"There is no reason why women scientists, technicians and engineers in the United States cannot step in to help fill the gap caused by our long-range shortage of engineers."

Assistant professor Lois Graham teaches both men and women in mechanical engineering—a field where thermodynamics and heat power meet fluid mechanics and metallurgy.

"The very fact that women engineers are being offered the same high salaries as men engineers shows that we finally are coming into our own in what for years has been considered a man's field," Miss Graham said.

Joys of Owning Pets Outweighs Any Danger

CHICAGO—The joy that children receive from pets, particularly dogs and cats, far outweighs the danger incurred from bites and disease that the animals may inflict on them.

This was revealed in an article by Dr. Hugh A. Carlthorpe, of Jacksonville, Fla., appearing in the Journal of Diseases of Children.

The report noted no serious or lasting effects to 157 children who had been bitten by one of 10 species of animals during a 20-month study.

The majority of the children bitten were between the ages of 2 and 10 years. "This is during the time when parental protection wanes and the adventuresome spirit takes over," said Dr. Carlthorpe. He added, "After the 10th year a child has attained considerable discretion in handling animals."

Busy Northerners Have High Dandruff Rate

NEW YORK—Your chances of being bothered by dandruff are greater if you live in a large Northern city and have a responsible job in a tension-producing business, according to the first nationwide survey of its kind ever made. Farmers, on the other hand, have the least dandruff problem, especially if they live in a temperate climate.

A sampling of barber shops, beauty salons, and drug stores was polled in 50 major, medium and smaller cities.

Land Limited

NEW YORK—Only 7 per cent of the land area, or 2 per cent of the total surface of our planet, is fully suited to agricultural production, notes a report of the Twentieth Century Fund. When the earth doesn't meet their requirements, tiller of the soil must either compromise with the existing environment or try to change it.

store promotions and changing consumer demands and preferences.

Expectation of the drop-off has been thwarted in recent weeks by unfavorable weather and supply situations. Now, however, the pattern clearly indicates consumers are going to be able to buy more at lower cost during the approaching season.

Retail outlets are adjusting prices to maintain total consumer spending, by offering a profusion of promotions appealing to the bargain minded—especially in canned and frozen lines—and pricing meats and fresh fruits—vegetables closer to actual market arrival situations.

The weekly survey by the University of Illinois consumer service observes that some of the market confusion noted here previously still exists where supply recovery has not been complete, or where normal seasonal trends have not fully materialized. But the so-called "sticky retail prices" that have been traditionally measured by economists are not apparent as retail price tags move quickly lower, however small the drop in livestock prices.

Congress of P. T. A. Favors State Income Tax, Judicial Change

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers last Friday came out in favor of a state income tax to provide more financial aid to schools. The stand was taken on a close standing vote and highlighted the second day of state convention activity at the State Armory. A standing vote was called for after the chair decided that a voice vote was inconclusive. The plank adopted for the legislation platform called for "necessary legislation for improvement of assessment and taxation processes and the principle of a state income tax."

Earlier in the day the convention adopted a report of a special revenue committee urging the General Assembly be asked to boost aid to schools by $175 million at its session next year.

The convention also went on record as favoring the proposed judicial amendment to modernize the state's court structure, which will be on the November ballot.

The group also elected the slate of candidates nominated by the convention. Mrs. Isaac Loose of Illinois was elected president.

Other election winners were: Mrs. Robert W. Nelson, Lake Forest, first vice president; Mrs. Harold Jump of Oswego, second vice president; Franklin R. Fitch of Chicago, third vice president, and Philip W. Vance of Springfield, treasurer.

The three-day meeting concluded Saturday evening with a banquet at the Armory. The speaker was Dr. Carl W. Winters, minister of the First Baptist church of Oak Park.

"PUSSY-WILLOWS"

Pussy-willows along the way
beckoned me the other day.
What warmth of hope and joy they bring,
These down-clad messengers of spring!

I touched their softness with a smile
And tho't of summertime the while;
The promise in the budding leaves
Of golden days and dusky eves.

Then suddenly, I tho't of you—
Pussy-willows can make one blue—
But they brushed my cheek with soft caress
And I breathed a prayer for your happiness.

That God would bless you through the years
And wipe away sad memories' tears,
Brightening all your days the while
With the warm, glad Springtime of His smile.

Then, soft as the blue of a summer's sky,
The pussy-willows, like an echoing sigh,
Gently brushed my cheek again
With a wind-kissed whisper,
"Amen . . . Amen!"
